Published Date: 06/05/2024

1. Purpose

Indigo Australasia Incorporated (Indigo) is committed to actively seeking input and feedback, both positive and negative from client's staff and other stakeholders and uses this information to continuously improve its services. This policy provides guidance on how feedback is received, managed, investigated and acted upon when necessary.

2. Scope

This policy applies to all Indigo services.

3. Policy Statement

Feedback, either compliments, complaints, or suggestions for improvement provides vital information, both positive and negative, about Indigo's provision of services and is used to continually improve the organisation's systems and processes.

Feedback is strongly encouraged and when received is acknowledged, respected and well-managed. Clients, staff and stakeholders can provide feedback without fear of reprisal and all concerns will be managed in a way that ensures access and equity, fairness and accountability.

Indigo provides opportunities for feedback through provision of a feedback form provided to all new clients in our welcome pack or can be lodged verbally, via the website or by email.

4. Principles

Indigo will:

- foster a service culture that encourages open and honest communication;
- inform clients about the standard of service they can expect;
- protect the right of clients and stakeholders to provide feedback and to make complaints about service delivery;
- encourage and make it easy for people to provide feedback;
- provide anonymity if requested to people providing feedback; and
- record and analyse information arising from feedback and use it to improve services.

All feedback received is registered on the organisation's electronic feedback system.

Staff are made aware of the processes for feedback management during their orientation induction and refresher training is scheduled annually on how to enter feedback and complaints into our feedback/hazard/incident/improvement management system. Staff are made aware of support and advocacy services that are available to clients and support clients to access these services if required.

The process of complaints lodging, and investigation is tied into the incident management system within the organisation's integrated risk management framework and clinical governance framework.

The feedback management process and each individual record is monitored by the Quality Team. Reminders and guidance are provided to record owners to ensure feedback is actioned and responded to appropriately.

Trend reports on feedback are provided monthly to Service Area Managers and the Executive Team, and quarterly to the organisations Clinical Governance Committee), and Board. Risks identified are escalated to the organisation’s risk register and mitigated as they arise. Any identified feedback trends are added to the Plan for Continuous Improvement for actioning to ensure clients receive quality care and services.
